Industry support for charities and other nonprofits

Honorable Members of the Commission,

After the public hearing in Mobile, I felt compelled to ask the members of the Alabama Brewers Guild to provide me with information about their support for charities and other nonprofits. I have included a partial list of organizations that have been supported by our 30 brewing members in recent years.

Our support for worthwhile organizations is often executed in partnership with our distribution partners. In my experience, all members of the beer industry in Alabama are generous in their support of charities and other nonprofits. Changing Alabama law to follow the best practices of other states and enable the growth of the local craft beer industry will only improve the ability for industry members to participate in charitable giving.

Sincerely,
